Alpha measures the difference between a fund's actual returns and its expected performance, given its level of risk (as measured by beta).

Beta is a measure of a fund's sensitivity to market movements. A portfolio with a beta greater than 1 is more volatile than the market, and a portfolio with a beta less than 1 is less volatile than the market.

Standard deviation is a statistical measure of the volatility of the fund's or index's returns.

Sharpe ratio uses standard deviation and excess return to determine reward per unit of risk.

R-squared measures the degree to which a fund's behavior is related to an external benchmark index.

Growth of a $10,000 Investment (Class A shares without sales charge)

12/31/2003 - 12/31/2013

The graph is for illustrative purposes only and reflects the hypothetical growth of a $10,000 investment with all distributions reinvested. Past performance does not predict future results. Performance shown in the graph and calendar year total returns reflects expenses and management fees, but does not reflect sales charges. If performance had included the appropriate sales charge, returns would be lower.

Data shown is historical performance for each share class and reflects reinvested distributions. Investment return and principal value will vary so that you may have a gain or loss when you sell shares. Past performance does not guarantee future results; current performance may be higher or lower than data quoted. For performance current to the most recent month-end, visit www.sentinelinvestments.com.

- 1. Performance of the Class A shares from September 24, 2001 to their inception on April 4, 2008 is based on the performance of the Standard shares of the Citizens Value Fund and prior to September 24, 2001 is based on the performance of the Meyers Pride Value Fund, both of which were offered without a sales charge, and reflects the current maximum sales charge. Performance of Class A shares from April 4, 2008 to June 29, 2012 has not been adjusted to reflect the lower maximum 12b-1 fee in effect prior to April 4, 2008 or the decrease in the maximum 12b-1 fee, effective June 30, 2012, from 0.30% to 0.25%. If it had, those returns would be higher.
 - 2. Performance of the Class I shares from March 31, 2006 to their inception on April 4, 2008 is based on the performance of the Institutional shares of the Citizens Value Fund. Performance from September 24, 2001 to March 31, 2006 is based on the performance of the Standard shares of the Citizens Value Fund. Performance prior to September 24, 2001 is based on the performance of the Meyers Pride Value Fund. Only eligible investors may purchase Class I shares, as described in the prospectus.
- The Standard & Poor's 500 Index is an unmanaged index of 500 widely held US equity securities chosen for market size, liquidity, and industry group representation. An investment cannot be made directly in an index.
- The Russell 1000 Index is an unmanaged index that measures the performance of the large-cap segment of the US equity universe. An investment cannot be made directly in an index.
